HISTORICAL SKETCH

THE SAINT ANDREW'S SOCIETY OF PHILADELPHIA.

THE love of home and kindred has always and everywhere been held to distinguish man from the brute,—the civilized and educated man from the wandering savage,—and to the honor of our compatriots nowhere has burned more brightly the sacred flame than in the hearts of Scotland's children. No distance, no remoteness in time or place from the ancestral home extinguishes it, and though many a weary league of land and sea, or numerous generations may separate them from the “Land of brown heath and shaggy wood, Land of the mountain and the flood,” and though poverty, or affliction, or other circumstances may prevent their ever treading the sacred soil of their fatherland, still longingly they gaze far over the seas to the ancient hills and lovingly remember their brethren at home and abroad.

When Philadelphia was settled many a Scotchman was gradually attracted to the new country, and, as Scotchmen always do, they soon rose to positions of honor and profit in the various departments of life.

But the old love of home and kindred animated them, and while our city, now so large and populous, was but like a babe in its swaddling-clothes, and Third Street was the western boundary of its built-up part, in December, 1749, certain

Scotchmen, honor to their memory, met and adopted the following

RULES FOR THE ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.

ADVERTISEMENT.

That peculiar benevolence of mind which shews itself by charitable actions in giving Relief to the poor and distress'd, has been always justly esteem'd one of the first-rate moral Virtues. Any Persons then who form themselves into a Society with this Intention must certainly meet with the Approbation of every candid and generous mind, and we hope it will plainly appear by the Rules which are to follow that The St. Andrew's Society, of Philadelphia, was Solely Instituted with that view. But as the Charities of this Society are to be somewhat confin'd, it may not be amiss, briefly, to mention the reasons by way of Apology for it.

The design of Society in general is undoubtedly universal Good, yet as it is impossible that all Mankind can be join'd in one Society, bodies of men have separated themselves into distinct Societies, which are call'd Nations. Now all the Publick Acts of these National Societies either are or ought to be calculated principally to promote the particualr happyness and welfare of that Nation where they are made. In Nations again for a reason of the very same kind men form themselves into Corporations and other Societies for promoting some particular Good which either had not or could not be so well provided for by the Publick acts of the Community. On this Account we are humbly of Opinion it will never be reckon'd a good Objection against any private Society that the ends propos'd by it are not General but confin'd to particulars under certain Circumstances: Provided always that nothing can be aim'd at by any such private Society inconsistent with the Public Good. Now to apply this to the present purpose We who are Natives of that Part of Great Britain call'd Scotland and reside in the City of Philadelphia meeting frequently with our Country people here in distress who generally make application to some one or other of us for relief have agreed to form ourselves into a Society in order to provide for these Indigents whereby they may be more easily more regularly and more bountifully Supply'd than cou'd well be done in the common troublesome way of making Occasional collections for such purposes. As we propos'd to restrict the Charities of our Society to our Indigent Country Folks alone so it was our original intention to admit none but Scotsmen born into the Society and to apply to or receive Contributions from none else. But upon considering that many descended of Scots Parents might be both able and willing to contribute towards a Charitable design of this Nature whereby their own Kinsmen from Scotland might some time or other be reliev'd in time of want and Necessity we judg'd upon mature deliberation that it wou'd be wrong to exclude them from joining with us. For this reason, we concluded to leave an opening for the Admission of such of them as shall be so dispos'd. At the same time we have endeavour'd to preserve a fair and just Ballance betwixt those from whom the Money is to be Collected and those to whose relief it is to be apply'd, so that as far as the original design of this Society will permit all who have any connection with the Contributors are intitl'd to the Charity of it. Others its true are not. Yet if by our Rules all others besides Scotsmen born, the sons of Scotsmen who may be members of this Society, or the Widows and Children of the Members are excluded from the benefit of it let it be likewise Consider'd that the same Rules limit the Contributions Agreeable to this So that we hope there is not the least room left for reflections of partiality. No injustice is done to any private man since if he contributes himself or Friends may reap an advantage and it can never be pretended that the Public can sustain any Injury Seeing on the contrary it may be the means frequently of saving the money allotted by the Public for Charitable Uses but cannot possibly interfere with any Public utility whatever.

Thus it appears that the design of this Society is fair equitable and Innocent and to convince the World that it is so we thought it proper to take this method of making Public our Rules.

Upon the whole we are sensible there are Societies of the same Denominations in other places of a more General and extensive Nature both as to Collecting and applying the Charities collected, and indeed it is but right if they are so in the one they ought to be so in the other.

But it is our Opinion for reasons which appear to us good Ones that the St. Andrew's Society in this place shou'd be constituted agreeable to the above Plan and accordingly have unanimously Voted and Agreed to the following Rules for the Better management and Improvement of the same.

THE RULES.

1. The Society shall be call'd by the name of the St. Andrew's Society at Philadelphia in Pensilvania.

2. In order to maintain a good understanding acquaintance and Fellowship with one another the members of the Society shall assemble at some convenient house in Philadelphia four times every year viz. the last day of November, February May and August but when either of these days happen to be of a Sunday the Meeting shall be the day Following. At these Meetings the Society may resolve upon and Vote such further Rules and Orders as may from time to time be found necessary and convenient for the regulation of the Society.

3. The Meeting on St. Andrew's day shall be called the Anniversary Assembly of the St. Andrew's Society—on which day or the day following if that happens to be Sunday the Members regularly met shall by majority of Votes Elect the Officers of the ensuing year viz. A President and Vice President, Two Assistants a Treasurer and Secretary who must all be Residents in the City of Philadelphia.

4. A majority of the members met at any of the Quarterly Meetings shall upon due application made have power to Admit into the Society any man of honour and integrity provided he be a Scotsman or the son of Scotsman or of Scots Parentage.

5. If any of the Officers happen to die or remove out of the Province during the year for which they were Elected the Members met at the Next Quarterly Meeting shall by plurality of Votes Elect others in their room for the service of the remaining part of the year.

6. Any Member being duly Elected an Officer who shall refuse to Act shall forfeit Three Pounds Pensilvania Currency for the use of the Society and another shall be immediately Chosen in his room.

7. The President or in his absence the Vice President shall appoint the place of meeting in Philadelphia every Quarter and shall give ten days notice to the members by an Advertisement in the New's Papers directed to the members of the St. Andrew's Society.

8. Any member who shall then be resident in the Province and Cannot Possibly attend the Society shall make his reasonable Excuse to the President or Vice President sometime before the Meeting which shall be laid before the Society. Otherwise for every default on St. Andrew's day he shall forfeit Twenty Shillings Currency and for every other default at any other meeting Ten Shillings for the use of the Society.

9. The President or Vice President shall at their discretion Agree for the entertainment of the Society for any sum not exceeding Ten Shillings a man Every St. Andrew's day or Six Shillings a man every other Meeting and the said Sums shall be paid by the respective Members without deducting any part of the same of the Society's Stock.

10. Every Present Member of this Society as well as every member hereafter to be admitted shall immediately Subscribe the Rules and Pay into the hands of the Treasurer a Sum not less than Twenty Shillings Pensilvania Currency to be apply'd according to the Rules and Orders hereafter Mentioned.

11. Every Member during his continuance as such shall pay Quarterly into the hands of the Treasurer a sum not less than five shillings Currency.

12. All Benefactions Donations and Forfeitures shall likewise be paid into the hands of the Treasurer for the time being who immediately after his Election shall become bound in an Obligation to the President, Vice President and former Treasurer or to either of them in double the Value of the Society's Stock then to be put into his hands with Condition to render to the Society a just and true Account of the same and of all Donations Quarterly payments Forfeitures and other improvements thereof Fire and inevitable accidents only excepted and to deliver the Same to the Obligers or to the order of the Society or the next Treasurer at any time when thereunto requir'd by a majority of the members regularly met at the Anniversary or Quarterly meetings.

13. As Charity and the relief of Indigent and poor people is principally intended by this undertaking all the money which from time to time shall be paid into the hands of the Treasurer shall be us'd and apply'd to the best advantage for promoting that design. And if at any time there shall be more Money in the Stock than the present exigencies of the Poor require—The Treasurer with the consent of the President may lend out the same at Interest on good Security for the payment thereof for any time not exceeding One year which Security shall be taken Jointly and Severally in the names of the President and Vice President and Treasurer for the time being.

14. The Charity of the Society shall be apply'd in the following manner, viz. The President and Vice President in Conjunction with the other Officers of the Society or in their absence a like number of members shall have power to draw Orders on the Treasurer for the time being payable to such poor Persons as they shall judge proper Objects of the Society's Charity which the Treasurer shall immediately Pay. Provided always that none but Natives of Scotland the Sons of Scotsmen or of Scots Parentage who may be hereafter Members of this Society or the Widows and Children of the Members shall ever be entitl'd to any part of this Charity. Provided also that the sums so drawn for do not exceed Five pounds to any one Person and Thirty pounds in the whole during one Quarter and of the said draughts and payments the Treasurer shall make report at the next Quarterly Meeting. But for any larger sums the poor Person qualified as above shall be obliged to Petition the Society at the next quarterly Meeting where the members met shall have power by plurality of Votes to order what sum they shall think Convenient. Provided the same does not Exceed Ten pounds to any One Person or Sixty pounds during one Quarter. The consideration of the payment of any larger sums than those last mentioned shall be referr'd to the Anniversary Assembly of the Society.

15. The Treasurer for the time being shall acct of the Society's Stock from time to time provide compleat Sets of Books wherein he shall regularly Enter all the Several Sums of Money directed to be paid by the Rules together with the names of Persons paying & the particular times when the said sums shall be paid. He shall likewise enter all the disbursements made by order of the President and Vice President or otherwise and shall produce these Books to be inspected and examen'd by the Members Every Quarterly Meeting.

16. A large Seal shall be provided for the use of the Society with a Thistle and Crown over it together with the motto Nemo me impune lacesset. This Seal shall be put into the hands of the President for the time being to be us'd as hereafter directed.

17. All the present Members and those who shall be afterwards admitted shall take a Certificate of their Admission under the Society's Seal Sign'd by the President or Vice President and Clerk in the Following form :

*These are to Certify that _____ of _____ was by a majority of Votes regularly admitted a member of the St. Andrew's Society of Philad'a in the Province of Pensilvania at a Meeting of the Society the _____ day of _____

18. The Assistants as occasion Offer shall with the Consent of the President or Vice President wait on all Gentlemen

Strangers and Others whom they shall think proper to acquaint with the Charitable design of the Society and modestly desire their assistance and concurrence therein. The success whereof they shall from time to time report to the next Quarterly Meeting of the Members Provided always and it is hereby expressly Rul'd that no application for Assistance be ever made to or accepted from any but Natives of Scotland or the Children of Scotsmen.

19. A Book shall be provided as often as Necessary Wherein the Sec^y shall enter all the Rules and Orders which now are or hereafter shall be voted and Agreed upon for the regulation of the Society together with the names of the Members and the times of their Admission and also the Election of the Officers and their Deaths as well as the Deaths of any of the Members. The Sec^y shall likewise duly enter in the said Book all Petitions to the Society and orders of it for the payments of Money. Also all Donations all reports made by any of the Officers, all Forfeitures incurr'd by any of the Members and all other proceedings and Transactions of the Society when regularly met together.

20. The Treasurer shall out of the Stock provide a Strong Box with a Lock and Key wherein shall be safely lodg'd the Rules and Orders of the Society with all the Money in Stock and the Securities for the same excepting the Bond to be entered into by the Treasurer which shall be kept by the President; and also All the Books Papers Accompts and minutes of the Transactions of the Society. This Box with every thing Contain'd in it shall be produc'd by the Treasurer to the Society every Anniversary Assembly at their place of Meeting to be there Inspected and Examn'd by the members and afterwards deliver'd to the Succeeding Treasurer upon his being duly Elect'd and giving Security according to the Direction of the Rules.

21. At all meetings of the Society after the President or Vice President has taken the chair the Rules shall be read by the Sec^y before the Company Proceed to Business and nothing shall be talk'd of but the business of the Society while the President keeps the chair. Whoever offends against this Rule after having been once reprimanded from the Chair shall forfeit Two Shillings and Sixpence to the ——— (word lost).

22. Good order and decency shall be observ'd in all Proceedings of the Society and every Member Speaking — business shall direct his discourse to the Chairman — after debate shall Sum up the Substance of the Argument and propose the Same to the Vote of the Company in all which matters a Majority shall prevail unless when the Rules Expressly order it to be otherwise.

23. On any particular emergency the President shall be invested with the Power to call a Meeting of the Society giving at least three days' notice to the Members in — either by advertisement in the Public papers or by — sent to each member: every Meeting so call'd shall — Possess'd of the same extent of Power in distributing Charity as any Quarterly Meeting.

24. Any Indecent or unmannerly behaviour — Members at any of the Meetings of the Society shall be Judg'd of by a majority of the Company present and the Person found to have Transgress'd shall forfeit a sum to the Box at the Discretion of the Company not Exceeding Ten shillings Currency.

25. Every Member who shall refuse to comply with the Rules without reasonable Excuse to be judg'd of by the Society shall have his Name Struck out of the list and shall no longer be deem'd a Member.

26. All Rules for the better Regulation of the Society not inconsistent with or repugnant to the above Rules may Voted and agreed by plurality of Votes at the Quarterly Meeting.

27. The foregoing Rules shall be deem'd the fundamental Articles and Rules of the Society and shall not be alter'd or abrogated otherwise than by the Consent and Vote of two thirds of the Members regularly met at the Anniversary Assembly.

Voted unanimously agreed and Seal'd with the Society's Seal at Philadelphia in the Province of Pensilvania this Seventh of December in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven hundred and forty nine. Witness our hands."

Thus run the first articles of Association—reproduced in the original spelling, capitalizing, and contractions, as the same stand recorded in the early pages of the first Minute Book of the Society.

On the succeeding page are, in apparently their own handwriting, the following names. The page is torn so that some of the names cannot be read; but the wanting part has been supplied from other data, the supplied part being inclosed in a parenthesis.

The above were the original members.

On the 15 Decr 1749 the first application for Relief was made by one Alex^r Ross who represented himself in a Petition copied verbatim into the Minute Book as a Surgeon from Gallowayshire, Scotland, as having been captured by the French and Spanish some 5 or 6 times within three years, as having escaped from a Spanish prison and as now confined in the Prison at Philada. for debt. For his relief 40s. were given.

The old minute-book is largely taken up with petitions for relief, many of which are very curious but generally too long for insertion here. A few gleanings may be admitted.

27 Aug. 1750 £5. 9s. were paid for a "strong box" for the Society. This box is now in the possession of the Society and is simply a large wooden box, which any of the accomplished "cracksmen" of the present day would open in two minutes.

Aug. 31. 1750. The following petition was read and is here inserted as a curiosity of the "good old times."

"About 18 years ago Janet Clealand on the earnest entreaties of her uncle John Gibbs late of Maryland deceased was prevailed on to make over a small patrimony which she had in Scotland to the said Gibbs' Brother as also quit her native country and attend her said uncle to Maryland relying on his solemn promise of being there handsomely supported by him during his life and having a considerable share of estate after his death—said Janet continued to live with and faithfully serve her said uncle as his housekeeper from her first arrival in Maryland until his death except at some particular times when bad council joined to his unhappy temper made him drive her from him for some days until cool reflection took place—he then always expressed a concern for treating her in that manner—she returned to serve him as usual for the truth of which as also of his frequent declarations that he brought her from Scotland on purpose to make her his Heiress, she can appeal to several gentlemen now living in Maryland. Some years before his death he was afflicted with sickness and made his will and thereby devised and bequeathed all he should die possessed of (saving debts and few legacies) to the said Janet. Dr. Wells the Physician who attended him at that time is now living and can prove this assertion as also several declarations of her uncles in her favor. In 1747 Mr. Gibbs died of an ulcer in his head and during his miserable sickness (which from the beginning deprived him of his reason as Dr. Williams who attended him has testified) his (the said Gibbs') negroes and their associates would in the Doctor's absence and in spite of the said Janet's endeavors to prevent it frequently give him large quantities of rum which added greatly to his disorder. In this condition he was prevailed on to make another will whereby he cuts the said Janet and all his other relations entirely off, sets all his negroes free and leaves them all he died possessed of except his plate and a few legacies which he thereby gives to strangers by virtue of which will the negroes and their associates have got possession of all her the said Janet's uncle died possessed of &c and she is now left entirely destitute as well of money to procure herself justice as of the means of supporting herself which her age and infirmities now render incapable of—"

The Society voted her £7. to carry on her lawsuit and recommended the members to give all the assistance they could, but subsequent entries show that the unfortunate Janet lost her suit entirely.

At the same meeting—Wm Biddle notifies the Society that he intends to be a Candidate for Sheriff but thinks a "particular application due to Gentlemen of so much influence as those that compose this Honorable Society—."

July 22; 1751.—A letter of thanks was sent to Messrs. Innes & Clark of London for the present of a Seal to the Society.

Nov. 30, 1751.—The Rules of the Society underwent considerable amendments, and on the same day it was ordered that the future meetings should be at the Assembly room on Mr. Hamilton's wharf, (many members objecting to a public tavern) and a committee was appointed to procure wine and other necessaries for their accommodation.

Feb. 7, 1752. Mary Stark presents a petition stating that she was born in Glasgow of reputable parents but seduced and decoyed thence to America at the age of nine years, and was in want—50s. allowed. At the same time 4 gentlemen were fined 40s. each for refusing to serve as Secretary.

Aug. 31, 1753. Dr. Thompson and John Inglis were directed to provide a dinner for the Society at the next Anniversary—"the dinner not to exceed 5 shillings a man for eating to be on the table by 2 o'clock in the afternoon—the bill to be brought in and deliver'd to the Secretary by five o'clock afternoon."

April 23, 1755.—Eight pounds were paid to John Sibbald for a quarter cask of Madeira.

May 31, 1755. The following entry occurs.

"A dispute arising whether the members present that came after seven o'clock (six being the hour appointed for meeting) shall be fined or no.—The Vice President summed up what was said on the occasion and put it to the Vote of the Company who were almost unanimous they ought to be excused the fine. Note—they were all absent except the clerk."

Feb. 29th, 1757.—(How this date occurs is not explained.) Dr. MacCleane is stated to be charged with a crime of a very atrocious nature and is therefore forbidden the meetings.

Feb. 28, 1758.—£100 were ordered to be put out at interest.

May 31, 1764, the Society being in straits, petitions for charity being rejected "because no money;" the Treasurer and Mr. Chas. Stedman are ordered to collect the dues.

Nov. 30, 1765. Complaints were made as to extravagances and the officers were directed thereafter to provide a cold supper for 10 or 12 persons, reckoning to be called at 11 o'clock and clubbed by the members present. No liquor to be brought in except on the officers' orders.

Aug. 31, 1776. The following entry occurs :

"The Sec'y advertized according to custom but the President and Vice President judg'd proper to put off this meeting owing to a number of the members being out of town or more particularly on account of the convulsed and unsettled state of the times.

"Mr. Lee was order'd not to provide for the Company and the subscriber deems it necessary to make this memorandum he having done his duty.

"ANEAS URQUHART."

Nov. 30, 1776.—7 members were present. The old officers were continued and all petitions for relief were referred to the old Committee, and the Company adjourned without supping, having first made a compensation to Mr. Lee for his trouble in preparing to entertain them.

The Society seems to have had at different times various places of meeting, among which may be named Mr. Bunn's tavern, Fleece tavern, Ton tavern, Bunch of Grapes, Masonic Lodge, and Mr. Hamilton's wharf.

Thus ends the old minute-book. The next one in the possession of the Society commences Nov. 30, 1786.

Before passing on to notice anything of interest therein contained, as a matter of curiosity at the present day some old bills for supplies, which have fortunately been preserved, are here reproduced.

Continuing our memoranda of events seeming to merit notice, we find :

1789, Nov. 30.—An invitation to the dinner of the St. George's Society, and that our officers were directed to return the compliment.

1790, May 31.—“The enormity” of the expense of the Anniversary dinner is objected to and ordered thereafter not to exceed 10 shillings each.

1790, Nov. 30.—The old seal was disapproved on account of the motto “Ubi Libertas ibi Patria,” and a new plate for the diplomas was ordered to be procured.

1792, Nov. 21.—The officers of the St. George's and Hibernian Societies were invited to the dinner, and at the same time it was resolved that the spare moneys be invested, and that it was proper to apply to the Supreme Court for an act of incorporation.

1793, Feb. 28.—The Treasurer reported that he had purchased $1012.29 of the deferred Debt of the U. S. at the rate of 12 sh. 6 pence to the pound.

1793, May 31.—Wm. M. Smith and Richard Lake were elected Counsellors—apparently the first time such officers were chosen.

1797, Dec. 1.—The Anniversary dinner was held to-day. Nov. 30 being “Fast Day” among the Presbyterians. As most of our members belonged to that denomination they doubtless played a better knife and fork on account of the abstinence of the previous day.

1799, Nov. 21.—The officers of the German and Welsh Societies were directed to be invited to the Annual dinner.

1801, Dec. 23.—The expenses of the Annual dinner over the money received therefor were directed to be paid by the officers ordering the same.

1805, Nov. 21.—It was directed that the dinners should be furnished at $3 per head, which it was hoped would be sufficient until 10 o'clock, the members who remained paying the bill after that hour. This was afterwards reported as not practicable.

1807, Nov. 30.—A Committee was appointed to inquire whether a charter had ever been procured, which Committee at the next meeting reported that no traces of any charter could be found.

1808, Dec. 3.—A Committee reports that the whole property of the Society consisted of a Certificate for $1012.29 of the Deferred debt and $277.99 in the Treasurer's hands.

1809, Feb. 28.—Notice was given that a Charter of Incorporation had been drawn up, passed and enrolled. (See Appendix No. 1.)

1809, Dec. 4.—$100 were directed to be invested.

1810, Feb. 28.—The subject of building a Hall for the Society was broached, but it was afterwards laid aside as being beyond their means.

At the same meeting all fines incurred before being incorporated were cancelled, but with the usual Scottish prudence it was provided that any member desiring to pay his fines should be permitted to do so.

1811, Nov. 23.—Members were authorized to invite any respectable Scotch friend to the Annual dinner.

1812, Feb. 29.—The charities of the previous year reported as $223.

This same year the custom seems to have arisen of holding a meeting one month before the anniversary, to make preparations for the dinner.

1815, Feb. 28.—Investments of the Society reported to be $2436.84.

1816, Nov. 30.—“The King of Great Britain” was ordered to be a standing toast at the annual dinners during the continuance of peace between the United States and Great Britain.

1816, Dec. 9.—Two shares of Philadelphia Bank stock were directed to be bought.

1819, Dec. 7.—Reported that applicants for charity are guilty of going to different Assistants and getting more than is right. And the Assistants were divided into pairs for each month.

1825, Feb. 28.—Assets reported at $2880.35.

1829, Aug. 31.—Steps are directed to be taken to secure a legacy of $1000 left to the Society by Mr. McKenzie.

1833, Feb. 28.—Assets reported $4045.24.

With the entry of Nov. 14, 1833, this minute-book ends.

The next minute-book in the possession of the Society is the one opened by the present Secretary,—Oct. 31, 1864.

Continuing the chronological jottings as before :

1865, April 20.—At a special meeting the Society adopted resolutions expressing their abhorrence of the murder of President Lincoln, and agreed to attend his funeral procession in a body.

1866, Feb. 28.—$1000 City of Pittsburg Bond was presented to the Society by Mr. Chas. Macalester, their President, the interest of which he directed should be applied towards defraying the expenses of the Quarterly suppers.

1868, Feb. 29.—A Committee was appointed to report what minutes of the Society were in its possession. The Committee, on May 30, '68, reported the two minute-books heretofore mentioned, and the former Secretary was directed to hunt up the missing minutes, and to write up the minutes kept by himself as Secretary, which it was stated he had in his possession in MS. On May 31, '69, the Committee reported that the minute-book from 1834 to 1840 or 1842 had been placed by the Secretary in a fire-proof safe in the office of Mr. Ewing, and was believed to have been stolen therefrom, but search was making therefor, and the loose minutes from 1840 or 1842 to 1864 were being collated and arranged by the Secretary, who had kept them. Aug. 31, '69, the Committee were directed to apply for the loose minutes and arrange them. Feb. 28, '70, reported that a large bundle of loose papers had been handed over by the former Secretary. On examination many had proved worthless, and it was probably impossible to engross them systematically. They were subsequently very carefully collated and arranged and a number of minutes of meetings, from Nov., 1844, to Feb., 1862, recovered and written in a proper volume.

1870, May 31.—Subscriptions of $870 to the Supper Fund reported, and that the same had been invested at interest.

1870, Aug. 31.—Reported that the President, Mr. Macalester, after the adjournment of the last meeting, offered to give $1000 more to the Supper Fund if the members would subscribe $2000 additional, and that nearly $1000 had already been paid in, and at subsequent meetings the payment of the whole amount needed and the receipt from Mr. Macalester of his subscription were reported.

1870.—Draft of new Charter submitted and adopted. Amended May 31, 1871, and on Feb. 29, 1872, it was reported that the same had been granted by the Court. (See Appendix.)

1871, Feb. 28.—Investments of the Society reported as follows :

General Fund	} at par,	$5720,
Supper Fund		3100,

and in August following the Supper Fund had been made up to $5100 in investments at par values.

1872, May 31.—By Laws reported and adopted. These have since been slightly amended, and, together with the new Charter, will be found in the Appendix.

1874, Feb. 28.—A legacy of $1000 to the Society from their late President, Charles Macalester, was reported.

1874, Oct. 31.—A Committee was appointed to consult with the other Scotch Societies upon the subject of a monument to Walter Scott in Fairmount Park.

1875, May 31.—Committee reported an arrangement with The Union Benevolent Society to distribute all charities. This was not found to work well in practice and was discontinued after a short trial.

At the same meeting a subscription list was started to help in the erection of a monument to John Witherspoon, D.D., a Signer of the Declaration of Independence and a member of this Society.

The monument was subsequently erected and St. Andrew's was represented at the opening ceremonies.

1880, Nov. 1.—The Strong Box was ordered to be refitted, painted and put in order, and deposited in The Fidelity Trust Company, with our books and papers.

Thus ends our chronological summary of the history of the Society. While we have to lament the loss of our minutes for thirty busy years, in which the Society was growing stronger in influence, character, and resources, we have still the files of the newspapers of the day, which show that the Society was flourishing, busy in good works, and with laudable regularity promoting mutual acquaintance and friendship by its annually recurring commemoration dinner.

At no time has its roll of active resident members been larger or its resources as ample as now, and we fondly indulge the hope that each succeeding year may bear witness to a steady healthy growth, and that it may endure forever.

The principal relic in the Society's possession is the sword of General Hugh Mercer, who was killed in the battle of Trenton during the Revolution. At the time of the dedication of the Mercer Monument at Laurel Hill Cemetery our Society occupied a place of honor, and was mainly instrumental in causing the same to be erected.

Leiper, Hector Kennedy, John Love, and such other persons as shall hereafter be admitted or become members of the said society, being Citizens of the said Commonwealth, and their successors, shall be and they are hereby in pursuance and by virtue of the above mentioned act erected into a Corporation or body politic in Law and in fact, to have continuance of the name, style, and title of "The St. Andrew's Society of Philadelphia," and as such shall have full power and authority to make, have, and use one common seal with the motto, "Nemo me impune lacesset," and the same to break, alter, or renew at their pleasure, and by the name, style, and title aforesaid be able and capable in law to sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, in any Court or Courts, before any Judge or Judges, Justice or Justices, in all manner of suits, complaints, pleas, causes, matters and demands whatsoever, and all and every matter or anything therein to do, in as full, effectual a manner as any other person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may or can do; and shall be authorized and empowered to make rules, by-laws, and ordinances, and to do everything needful for the good government and support of the affairs of the said Society. Provided, that the said by-laws, rules, and ordinances, or any of them, be not repugnant to the Constitution and Laws of the United States, to the Constitution and Laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or to the present instrument upon which the said Society is founded and established; and provided also, that none of the said by-laws, rules, and ordinances shall extend to a dissolution of the said Society or give power to dissolve the same except by consent of all the members thereof.

ARTICLE II. The said Society and their successors, by the name, style, and title aforesaid, shall be able and capable in Law, according to the terms and conditions of these presents, to take, receive, and hold all and all manner of lands, tenements, rents, annuities, franchises, and hereditaments, and any sum or sums of money, and any manner and portion of goods and chattels given and bequeathed unto them, to be employed and disposed of according to the objects, articles, and conditions of this Instrument, the by-laws of the said Society, or of the will and intention of the donor. Provided, That the clear yearly value or income of the messuages, houses, lands and tenements, rents, annuities, or other hereditaments and real estate of the said Society, and the interest of the money by them lent, shall not exceed the sum of five hundred pounds.

ARTICLE III. The members of the Society shall be distinguished into resident and honorary. No person shall be admitted as a member, unless he be a native of Scotland, or the lineal descendant of a native of Scotland. Those only shall be deemed honorary members who reside at too great a distance from Philadelphia conveniently to attend the meetings of the Society. All others shall be considered resident members.

ARTICLE IV. The officers of the Society shall be a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, a Secretary, a Chaplain, two Counsellors, two Physicians, and six Assistants, chosen annually by ballot by a majority of the votes of the members present. The choice of officers shall be made at the anniversary meeting, unless otherwise directed by a vote or resolution of the Society, in which case the notices of meeting shall express that officers of the Society are to be chosen, but the following persons shall be and continue officers of the said Society until the next anniversary meeting thereof, which shall be on the thirtieth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and nine, to wit:

William Macpherson, President.
Thomas Smith, and	} Vice-Presidents.
Thomas Leiper,
Thomas Ewing, Treasurer.
Robert Frazer, Secretary.
Rev ^d Joseph Shaw, Chaplain.
John B. Wallace, and	} Counsellors.
Edward Shippen, Burd,
James Proudfit,	} Physicians.
Nathaniel Chapman,
Robert Smith,	} Assistants.
David Walker,
James Arrott,
James McCurrack,
George Farquhar, and
Charles McAllister,

ARTICLE V. The President shall take the chair at all meetings where he is present, shall regulate all debates, shall preserve order in the Society. He shall have power to call a special meeting of the Society on any emergency, directing the Secretary to notify the members, expressing in the notice either the particular occasion of the call, or that it is urgent business.

ARTICLE VI. In the absence of the President, one of the Vice-Presidents shall perform the duties assigned to him. It shall likewise be the duty of the Vice-Presidents, or one of them, to sign all orders on the Treasurer for the payment of money agreeably to the votes and resolution of the Society or of the Assistants, and no moneys paid otherwise than upon the orders of the Vice-Presidents, or one of them, drawn as aforesaid, shall be allowed to the Treasurer in the settlement of his accounts.

ARTICLE VII. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the Society's strong-box, their seal, their cash, their certificates, and other evidences of property, their books of account, and such other books and effects as may be ordered to be deposited therein. He shall produce the said box, with the cash, papers, and other effects, deposited or ordered to be deposited therein, for inspection and examination by the Society, or by such committee as they shall appoint for the purpose; and shall deliver the same to the succeeding Treasurer upon notice of his being duly elected, and giving the security hereinafter directed. The Treasurer shall collect all moneys due to the Society. He shall provide and keep complete sets of books of account, in which he shall keep fair and full accounts of all moneys payable to the Society for contributions, fines, or otherwise, and all property of whatever kind belonging to the Society, and also of all payments and disbursements made for or on account of the Society; expressing particularly the object and date of the payment, the date of the order on which made, the name of the officer drawing the same, and of the person in whose favor drawn. At each anniversary meeting, or at such other time as shall for that purpose be appointed, the Treasurer shall produce such books and accounts for the inspection and examination of the Society, or of such committee, as shall be appointed for that purpose. He shall pay out of the moneys of the Society in his possession all such orders as shall be directed to him under the hand of the Vice-Presidents, or either of them, in pursuance of the votes and resolutions of the Society, or of the Assistants, or any two of them, but no others. Each Treasurer, before he enters upon his office, shall give Bond (with surety) to the Society in double the amount of the property, and evidences of property to be delivered into his possession and conditioned for his faithfully and diligently collecting, receiving, and keeping all moneys and other property and evidences of property belonging or payable to the Society; for the faithful and punctual payment of all orders regularly drawn on him; for the true and faithful delivery to his successor, on demand, of the strong-box, and of the books of account, cash certificates, and other papers and property, or evidences of property whatever, and in all other respects well and faithfully to perform and fulfil the trusts and duties of Treasurer agreeably to the provisions of this instrument and the bye-laws of the Society until a successor shall be duly elected and qualified to fill the office of Treasurer, which Bond shall be deposited in the hands of the President of the Society for safe keeping.

ARTICLE VIII. The Secretary shall have the custody of the Book of Minutes of the Society, and shall therein record all the votes, resolutions, and other transactions of the Society. He shall give public notice of the time and place of the anniversary, quarterly and special meetings of the Society. He shall keep a regular list or roll of the names of all the resident and honorary members of the Society. He shall, half an hour after the time appointed for the meeting of the Society, call over the names of the resident members, noting the absentees, and immediately after the adjournment of the Society shall deliver a correct list of delinquents to the Treasurer, noting those who appeared and took their seats after roll-call, and requested a note to be made of such their appearance. At the opening of every meeting of the Society, whether stated or special, the minutes of the proceedings of the former meeting shall be read by the Secretary, at which time, but not afterwards, corrections may be made by the Society.

ARTICLE IX. The Chaplain shall perform the religious duties customary at the meetings of the Society, and shall by his counsel and advice promote harmony and good will among the members. He shall also visit such sick and distressed persons as may be recommended to his attention by the Assistants, or any two of them.

ARTICLE X. It shall be the duty of the Counsellors, upon the call of the President, Vice-Presidents, or any two of the Assistants of the Society, to give opinions and advice upon any questions of law in which the Society shall be interested, or any other persons in whose behalf the Society shall interfere, and make such call; and shall render such other legal assistance as shall be necessary in any of the cases aforementioned.

ARTICLE XI. The Physicians shall render such medical advice and relief to persons the objects of the Charity of the Society, as shall be pointed out to them by the Assistants, or any two of them.

ARTICLE XII. The six Assistants shall be a standing committee of the Society, whose duty it shall be to pay attention to emigrants from Scotland, to inquire into their treatment during the passage, and into their circumstances and views; to assist them by their advice, and to recommend such of them as they may think proper to the Society for pecuniary relief. It shall also be their duty to consider such applications as may be made for Charity between the stated meetings. They shall have power to bestow out of the funds of the Society such relief as they may think absolutely necessary to poor persons whom they may judge to be objects of the Society's bounty, being natives of Scotland, their widows and children, or being the widows, children, or grandchildren of members of the Society. But the said Assistants shall not exceed the sum of twenty dollars in their donations to any one person, nor the sum of one hundred dollars in the whole in the advancements to be made by them between any two stated meetings of the Society, unless by the order or permission of a stated meeting of the Society or by a special meeting to be called for that purpose, and to consist of at least seven members; which advances shall be made by orders drawn on the Treasurer by at least two members of the said Committee of Assistants and not otherwise. Provided, That no person shall be entitled to charity or relief from this Society who by any settlement or residence shall be at the same time entitled to support or relief from any city, county, borough, township, hundred, parish, or place within the United States, unless in cases of urgent and extraordinary distress, and when it may be necessary for the person applying to remove from this city to some other place, in which case a meeting of the officers and Assistants of the Society shall be called to determine upon the relief to be given.

ARTICLE XIII. If any officer shall happen to die or to remove from this State during the time for which he shall have been elected, his place may be supplied by an election made at the next stated meeting of the Society in the form above mentioned.

ARTICLE XIV. If any member, being duly elected an officer, shall refuse to serve, another shall be chosen to supply his place at the next stated meeting of the Society in the form above mentioned.

ARTICLE XV. In admitting members into the Society the following form shall be observed. A member of the Society shall name the person proposed to be admitted, and shall at the same time state to the Society that he knows or has good grounds for the belief (stating at the same time those grounds) that the person proposed is within the qualifications expressed in the third article of this Charter: whereupon the Secretary shall enter the nomination on the minutes of the Society. At the next stated meeting, at the request and motion of the person nominating, or of some person by him authorized, they shall proceed to ballot for the person proposed as member, and if upon such ballot it shall appear that two-thirds of the resident members present are in favor of his admission, he shall be admitted as a member, and upon payment of not less than five dollars to the Treasurer, if a resident member, or, if elected as an honorary member on payment of any sum not less than ten dollars, he shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of a member of the Society.

ARTICLE XVI. The stated meetings of the Society shall be four times every year, at some convenient house in the city of Philadelphia, viz., on St. Andrew's day (which shall be the anniversary), and on the last days of February, May, and August; but if either of those days should be Sunday the meeting shall be holden on the day next ensuing; five resident members shall constitute a quorum for transacting the business of the Society, and upon a quorum being formed at any stated meeting, a majority of the members present shall have authority to ordain and establish such by-laws, rules, and ordinances relative to the affairs of the Society as they may deem proper, and to alter or abolish the same at their pleasure; subject, however, to the provisions contained in the first article of this instrument. Any officer who shall be absent from a stated meeting shall pay to the Treasurer for the use of the Society fifty cents, and any other resident member who shall have been regularly admitted and shall be absent shall pay a fine in like manner of twenty-five cents. But if any officer or member shall appear after roll-call and desire his appearance to be noted, he shall be fined one-half the sums above named respectively.

ARTICLE XVII. Each member of the Society besides the sum paid on admission shall make a contribution of three dollars annually, to be paid to the Treasurer at the anniversary meeting, and to be appropriated as above mentioned to charitable uses. The funds arising from fines imposed on the members may be applied towards the defraying of the necessary expenses incurred and occasioned by visits from strangers and officers of other charitable societies at the anniversary meetings of this Society and other necessary expenses of the Society. But the sums payable on admission, the annual contributions, and the surplus of fines which shall appear upon the annual settlement of the Treasurer's accounts, shall be applied exclusively to the relief of distressed persons and to the establishing funds for affording such relief; and any surplus funds of the Society that may remain in the Treasurer's hands on the settlement of his accounts at each anniversary meeting, or such part thereof as a majority of the members present at such anniversary meeting may direct, a quorum being duly formed as aforesaid, shall by him be invested in some Stock, bearing an interest or yielding a dividend, or put out at Interest on landed Security, in such manner as may be directed by a majority of the members present; subject, however, to the provision contained in the Second Article of this instrument.

ARTICLE XVIII. At all meetings of the Society the President, or in his absence the Senior Vice-President, or in his absence the other Vice-President, or in his absence a member chosen President for one time, shall take the chair, half an hour after the time appointed for the meeting of the Society. Whereupon the roll shall be immediately called by the Secretary, the minutes of the former meeting read, and the Society proceed to business if a quorum shall be found; whilst the meeting is organized no business shall be discussed or brought into the view of the Society but what shall relate to the objects of its institution. Every member speaking shall address himself to the chair; when the debate is closed the presiding officer shall put the question, which (unless when otherwise particularly directed) shall be decided by a majority of voices present.

ARTICLE XIX. Upon a demand made by the Treasurer upon any member personally for a fine or annual contribution, if such member shall refuse or neglect to pay the same, it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to report such refusal or neglect to the next stated meeting of the Society. Whereupon the Society shall direct the Secretary to deliver a written notice to such member personally that he is reported delinquent, and that unless he make payment or assign a sufficient reason to the Society at their next stated meeting why he does not, he will be liable to be expelled by a vote of the Society from his membership and lose all rights thereto attached; and if such member shall still neglect or refuse to pay or to assign a satisfactory excuse for not paying, the Society may, at the next anniversary meeting, or at any subsequent stated meeting whilst such member continues delinquent, by a vote of two-thirds of the members present expel such delinquent; which vote of expulsion shall be entered on the minutes, and a certified copy thereof served on the expelled member by the Secretary; and such member shall thereupon be considered as absolutely expelled and no longer a member of the Society, nor entitled to any participation in its property, rights, or privileges.

CERTIFICATE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

I do Certify to the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that I have perused and examined the within Instrument, and am of opinion that the objects, articles, and Conditions therein set forth and Contained are lawful.—December 30th, 1808.

HUGH H. BRACKENRIDGE.

Pennsylvania sst :

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Simon Snyder, Governor of the said Commonwealth,—To Timothy Matlack, Esquire, Master of the Rolls in and for the said Commonwealth, Sends Greeting: Whereas, It has been duly certified to me by Joseph B. McKean, Esquire, Attorney-General of the said Commonwealth, and by William Tilghman, Esquire, Chief Justice, and by Jasper Yeates, Thomas Smith, and Hugh Henry Brackenridge, Esquires, Associate Judges of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, that they have respectively perused and examined the within Act or Instrument for the Incorporation of "The St. Andrew's Society of Philadelphia;" and that they concur in opinion that the Objects, Articles, and Conditions therein set forth and contained are lawful. Now know you, that in pursuance of an act of the General Assembly, passed the sixth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-one, entitled "An act to confer on certain associations of the citizens of this Commonwealth the powers and immunities of Corporations or Bodies Politic in Law," I have transmitted the said Act or Instrument of Incorporation unto you, the said Timothy Matlack, Master of the Rolls aforesaid, hereby requiring to enrol the same at the expence of the applicants to the intent that according to the Objects, Articles, and Conditions therein set forth and contained, the parties may become and be a corporation in Body politic, in Law, and in fact, to have continuance by the name, style, and title in the said Instrument provided and declared.

Given under my Hand and the Great Seal of the State, at Lancaster, this Sixth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and nine, and of the Commonwealth the thirty-third.

By the Governor.

NATH'L B. BOILEAU,
Secretary.

Inrolled in the Rolls Office for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in Letter of Attorney book No. 8, page 165, etc. •

Witness my hand and seal of said Office at Lancaster, this Twenty-seventh day of February, A.D. 1809.

APPENDIX No. II.

CHARTER.

ARTICLE I.

NAME AND POWERS.

THE name of the Society shall be "The St. Andrew's Society of Philadelphia," and by that name the Society shall have perpetual succession, and be capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, and may have, hold, and take by gift, devise, bequest, purchase or otherwise, real and personal estate of as large clear yearly value as is allowed by the Laws of the State of Pennsylvania relating to the Incorporation of Charitable and Benevolent associations; and shall have full power and authority to make and use a common seal, with such device as may be deemed proper, and the same from time to time to alter and renew at pleasure; and generally shall have and enjoy all rights and privileges appertaining to such corporations.

ARTICLE II.

OBJECT.

The sole object of the Society shall be the relief of distressed Scotch emigrants after their arrival in Pennsylvania, and the widows and minor children of such emigrants. Such relief shall be given in such manner and form as shall be from time to time particularly set forth in the By-Laws of the Society.

ARTICLE III.

OF MEMBERSHIP.

The only persons qualified for membership in this Society shall be citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who shall have been born in Scotland or who shall be the descendants of persons born in Scotland. The Society shall have the right to elect honorary members, who shall not at any time exceed ten in number, but no honorary member shall have any right to take any part in the management of the business of the Society, nor shall such members be called upon to contribute to its support.

The members, regular and honorary, shall be elected under such regulations, and the regular members shall pay such yearly contribution for the support of the Society, as the Society may from time to time prescribe by its By-Laws.

ARTICLE IV.

OF OFFICERS AND ELECTIONS.

The officers of the Society shall be a President, two Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, Secretary, Chaplain, two Physicians, two Counsellors, and such number of Assistants and other officers as may from time to time be provided for by the By-Laws. The officers shall perform such duties as usually appertain to the respective offices, and which shall be particularly set forth in the By-Laws.

They shall be elected annually by ballot at the October meeting, and shall hold office for the term of one year from the Thirtieth day of November of the year of their election; and if from any cause there should fail to be an election at the proper time, the officers then in office shall hold their respective places until their successors shall be duly chosen at a subsequent meeting.

At all elections for officers the candidates elected must have a majority of the whole number of votes cast.

In case any of the offices becoming vacant by death, resignation, or otherwise during the current term the vacancy shall be filled by election by ballot at the next stated meeting, or at a special meeting called for the purpose.

ARTICLE V.

OF MEETINGS.

There shall be at least five stated meetings of the Society held every year, viz., on the last day of the months of February, May, August, and October, and on St. Andrew's day, unless said meeting day shall happen on Sunday, when the meeting shall be held on the day next succeeding.

The order of business and the number necessary to form a quorum shall be prescribed by the By-Laws.

The President or either of the Vice-Presidents at any time may, and shall at the request of three members in writing, call a special meeting of the Society.

ARTICLE VI.

OF BY-LAWS.

The Society shall have power to make all needful By-Laws for the regulation of its affairs not contravening this Charter, or the Constitution and Laws of the United States of America, or of the State of Pennsylvania.

APPENDIX No. III.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.

B Y - L A W S.

ARTICLE I.

OF THE OFFICERS.

SECTION 1. The President shall punctually at the hour for meeting take the chair at all meetings of the Society, and conduct its business in the order prescribed in Article III, Section 2.

He shall keep proper order, decide all points of order, subject to appeal, and shall in case of a tie vote on any subject have the privilege of voting, but in no other case; should he refuse to so vote the motion shall be lost.

He shall appoint all committees unless otherwise ordered, of which committees the first-named person shall be chairman, and shall himself be ex-officio a member thereof unless otherwise determined by the Society.

He shall perform any other duty assigned him from time to time by the Society.

SECTION 2. The Vice-Presidents shall, in order of seniority in office, perform the duties of the President in his absence, and in the same order succeed to his place in case of his death or resignation, until his successor be duly chosen.

SECTION 3. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the moneys and securities and other valuables of the Society. He shall collect all moneys due the Society, and pay all orders lawfully drawn upon him by the Assistants, and all moneys which, by any vote of the Society certified to him by the Secretary, he may be directed to do, and all bills which he may know to be correct and proper, and which may be presented for payment more than fifteen days preceding the next stated meeting of the Society. He shall keep a proper cash-book, a proper ledger account with each member, a ledger account of each security, and of each special fund, and shall make a written report at every stated meeting showing his receipts and disbursements in detail since his last report. He shall at every February meeting report what members are in arrears for initiation fee for one year or for dues two years, and at every meeting all fines incurred by officers pursuant to Section 9 of this Article. He shall further give proper notice previous to the February meeting to any member who may be in danger of being dropped for unpaid dues, that at said meeting he will cease to be a member unless said dues are paid, and shall notify all members stricken from the roll for this cause of the fact thereof. He may be required to give satisfactory security for the due performance of his duties.

SECTION 4. The Secretary shall keep in a proper book fair and correct minutes of all proceedings of the Society, and shall produce such book and read such minutes at every stated meeting of the Society. He shall give written or printed notice of election to every new member elected, and to every officer not present at the time of election, and a similar notice by post to every member in the city of Philadelphia of the time and place of the stated meetings in February, May, August, and October; and of every adjourned and special meeting, unless prevented by shortness of time. Each notice of a stated meeting shall contain the names and residences of candidates for membership and the names of the proposers.

He shall notify the Treasurer of the name and address of each new member elected, and the chairman of each committee appointed of such appointment, with a list of the members of the committee.

He shall send an invitation in the name of the Society to the subscribers and invited guests for the annual dinner.

He shall lay before the chair at each meeting a written order of business, with the names of the committees who should report, and a statement of the unfinished business, if any. He shall keep a correct roll of all active and honorary members, and all reports, letters, and other papers of the Society shall be properly filed and preserved by him.

SECTION 5. The Chaplain shall open each meeting, at which he is present, with prayer and shall invoke the blessing of God at each annual meeting, and shall render such spiritual advice and consolation to the sick and suffering objects of the Society's bounty, referred to him by the Assistants, as he may deem proper in the circumstances of the case, and shall, if requested by an officer so to do, perform proper funeral services for persons buried under the care of the Society. He shall be excused from the payment of any dues.

SECTION 6. The Counsellors, who shall be men learned in the law, shall give the Society such legal advice as may be required from time to time without charge.

SECTION 7. The Physicians, who shall be regular graduates of a respectable Medical College, shall under the direction of the Assistants render proper medical attendance to the sick and suffering under the Society's care, without charge.

SECTION 8. The Assistants, whose number shall be designated at each annual election, shall have charge and oversight of all the sick and suffering poor who may apply for the benefit of the charity funds of the Society.

The Assistants shall have liberty to expend in each month, from May to October inclusive the sum of Fifty Dollars, and in each month from November to April inclusive, the sum of One Hundred Dollars, and any amount unexpended in any month may be expended by them any time subsequently.

Relief shall only be extended to the objects named in Article IV of these By-Laws, and care and discrimination shall be used to prevent any unworthy person from becoming a recipient of the Society's bounty.

It shall be the duty of the Assistants to keep a book wherein shall be entered in alphabetical order applications for relief, amount given (if any), the date of giving, and every other particular which may be deemed useful to the Society. The Acting Assistant shall further have power to call for the professional services of the Society's physicians or counsellors, and to provide for all burials in the Society's lot.

SECTION 9. If either the President, Vice-Presidents, the Secretary or Treasurer be absent from any stated meeting of the Society he shall pay to the supper fund a fine of $1.00; unless excused on good cause by a vote of two-thirds of the members present at the next meeting.

ARTICLE II.

OF MEMBERS.

SECTION 1. The name of every proposed member shall be handed in by a member of the Society in writing at a stated meeting of the Society, with his address, a statement of the business in which he is engaged, and whether he was born in Scotland or is descended from Scottish ancestors.

This statement shall be signed by the member proposing, and shall be read aloud by the Secretary at the close of the meeting immediately before adjournment. The proposals shall then lie over for action at the next stated meeting.

There shall be appointed at each annual election a Committee of five members who shall constitute an Elective Committee, to whom all propositions for membership shall be submitted, at least thirty days previous to a regular meeting, at which the election shall be held as provided in this Section.

SECTION 2. All elections for members shall be by ballot, and three black balls in the box shall defeat the candidate. If his proposer thinks proper he may request the ballot to be taken again before the transaction of other business; and the same shall be done, but such new ballot shall be final.

SECTION 3. Every new member shall pay an admission fee of $10. All admission fees received subsequently to the adoption of this By-Law shall be invested at interest as a part of the permanent funds of the Society. Every member shall pay an annual fee of $5. Admission fees shall be payable upon election; annual fees on St. Andrew's day. Any member may commute his annual fees by the payment of $50 in one sum; and all sums so received shall be invested at interest as part of the permanent funds of the Society.

SECTION 4. Any member who shall be found guilty of any breach of the Criminal Laws of the land, or who shall become intoxicated, or use profane, violent, or obscene language at any meeting of the Society, or who shall by his acts or behavior show himself unfit to associate with gentlemen, shall be expelled from the Society.

In order to expel a member notice shall be given in writing, signed by three members, at one stated meeting, that a motion to expel will be made at the next stated meeting, and notice thereof shall be given to the offending member by the Secretary. Such motion when brought up at a subsequent meeting shall require the votes of two-thirds of the members present for adoption. Provided, however, that if the reasons for expulsion be open, notorious, and uncontradicted, any stated meeting may by the unanimous vote of all the members present, except the offending member, dispense with notice and by such vote expel the offender.

Any member whose admission shall be unpaid for one year, or who shall be in arrear for his annual dues for two years, shall cease to be a member of the Society, unless retained upon the roll by an express vote when reported by the Treasurer.

SECTION 5. Honorary members shall be elected in the same manner as prescribed respecting other members.

ARTICLE III.

OF MEETINGS.

SECTION 1. The hour for all meetings, stated, adjourned, and special, shall be eight o'clock in the evening, unless specifically ordered otherwise in the case of a special meeting, and except also on St. Andrew's day, when the Dinner Committee shall fix the hour. Twelve members shall constitute a quorum, but a less number may adjourn over to another time.

SECTION 2. At all stated meetings the order of business shall be as follows :

1. Reading and amendment and approval of the minutes.
2. Reports of Committees in the order of their appointment and action thereon.
3. Treasurer's Report and action thereon.
4. Unfinished business.
5. Election of members.
6. Election of officers.
7. New business.
8. Reading the names of candidates for membership, and adjournment.

At an adjourned meeting the business shall be commenced where the same was left off at the time of the adjournment of the previous meeting. At a special meeting no business shall be transacted other than that for which the meeting was called.

At any stated or adjourned meeting the order of business may be changed or suspended by a vote of three-fourths of those present.

SECTION 3. After the adjournment of every quarterly meeting the members present shall be entitled to partake of such collation as the income from the Supper Fund may justify.

ARTICLE IV.

RELIEF.

Relief shall be given by the Assistants as prescribed in Section 8 of Article I of these By-Laws. The only persons to whom it shall be given shall be destitute persons born in Scotland, their widows and minor children. No person habitually using intoxicating liquor to excess shall ever receive any relief.

ARTICLE V.

OF EMOLUMENTS.

No officer shall receive any emolument whatever from the Society except the Treasurer, who shall be allowed ten per centum upon all annual dues collected, dues paid at the annual dinner always excepted.

ARTICLE VI.

OF AMENDMENTS.

All amendments or alterations of these By-Laws must first be proposed in writing at one stated meeting, and shall then require the votes of three-fourths of the members present for adoption; and in the notices issued for such next stated meeting the substance of such amendment or alteration shall be set forth.

CATALOGUE OF MEMBERS

OF

THE SAINT ANDREW'S SOCIETY OF PHILADELPHIA.

PRESENT MEMBERS IN SMALL CAPS.

THIS Catalogue has been compiled from the following sources :

- I. The Minute-Books of the Society.
- II. The prior Catalogues—printed or MSS.
- III. The Ledgers and Cash Books.

Aided by whatever other memoranda have been found and which seemed to give any information.

It is not pretended that it is complete, nor is all therein contained to be implicitly relied upon as correct ; it is only put forth as the best now to be had. By reason of the loss of minutes, the diverse spellings of names in memoranda preserved, and the great want of system in former records, it is more than probable that the names of some members have been entirely lost, and it is also likely that others are spelled wrongly, improper dates given, and, perhaps, some few duplicated. I can only say that I have given much care, time, and attention to avoid errors of every kind, and have done the very best I could do with the material at my command.

It was at one time apparently the practice to accept gifts from divers persons, very frequently captains of merchant vessels frequenting Philadelphia, and those persons are styled honorary members. They appear invariably to have been Scotchmen. I have not entered intentionally any such persons as members, but have catalogued only the resident members. This practice died out about the Revolution, and from that time every name it is likely is that of a resident member, and there can be but very few, if any, names previous thereto who were not resident members.

The work of collating the Ledgers and Cash Books was performed by Mr. Hunter Stedman, who, in so doing, has only added another to the very many obligations due him from The Saint Andrew's Society.
